

If something makes us different is that Carnicería Ramirás selected raw materials.

Control the entire process, from birth, experienced staff is in collaboration with the farm the evolution of their livestock at all times knowing their status. This development is always done with a deal close to the farm, whose common goal is to obtain a high quality final product.

When conditions are optimal animal, is made to transfer the animal to the place of slaughter, transport and pricing go to our office running with all expenditure, while ensuring the best transportation and the best conditions to meet the requirements animal welfare.

We have own vehicle for the realization of transfer, duly approved and with the best equipment to transfer conditions are optimal for cattle.

Once the animal is in the slaughterhouse, it continues to monitor the cooling cycle, so it arrives in an optimal state of our facilities, so we can provide them to you all with the highest possible quality.